

CANT SLIP THAT KNOT

Although the smallest fence tie made, the Anthony Knot is the strongest. You can't slip a stay wire through the Anthony Knot. Look at the back of the knot and see why. The stay wire is curved around the line wire. There is no bend in the line wire inside the knot. Each is made that way for a reason. Each resists the kind of strain it gets in actual service. The hard spring steel wire is woven on the Anthony Fence Machine without rupturing the heavy galvanizing. Line wires guaranteed equal length. And the Anthony Knot is so tight, so compact and so smooth, that it will not catch or tear cattle or sheep. Examine for yourself a sample Anthony Knot. Mailed free. See that Knot.

Obituary.

Baby Helen Rozelle, only daughter of Arthur and Fromia Hopkins, was born January 17 and died March 12, 1910, aged 1 month and 25 days.

Just a little flower that bloomed on earth for a morning and was then plucked by the angels for our hands and borne to the sunlit clime to shed its fragrance in the mansions of God. She stayed on earth just long enough to wrap her baby fingers in the chords of our hearts, and then on angel pinions flew away, sinless, to the presence of the Sinless One, where with dimpled hands she beckons us onward and upward.

"The better to have loved and lost, Than never to have loved at all."

It is well with the child. May we meet the innocent smile of this little one in peace and joy on that glad morning when the eternal day shall break in the glory of Christ the Lord.

Obituary.

From the grand old commonwealth of Penn., tolling over the Alleghenies, enduring the hardships of the wilderness, came many sturdy men and brave women to establish homes in the fair young state of Ohio. Among these home seekers came Robert and Mary Irwin, who located in Brown county, Ohio, and set up their family altar. To them was given five daughters and two sons, all of whom have passed unto "The Great Beyond."

"Gone but not forgotten."

James B., of whom this sketch is written, was born in Brown county, Ohio, July 19, 1829. Weary with years and worn with pain, he fell asleep in Buford, Highland county, Ohio, Feb. 6, 1910. A long journey of 80 years 6 months and 17 days on the highway of life. Of these early years the writer is not acquainted, but childhood is always sweet and sunny; boyhood brings hope and manhood its full fruition. If the man stumbled, and who does not, we will not judge.

The working of his brain and of his heart thou canst not see. What looks to thy dim eyes a stain in God's pure light may only be a scar brought from some well worn field, where thou wouldn't only faint and yield. But the boy, James, had a strong cable and sure anchor for his character. As he joined the Presbyterian Church at Monterey, Clermont County, in early boyhood and a son tells us he lived faithful unto death. We knew him as a gentle, kindly, considerate old gentleman, strong in purpose, energetic and glad to labor in the field and garden of his home. In looking over the calendar of Mr. Irwin's life we find many vicissitudes, changes and sorrows.

Mr. Irwin was married March 3, 1853, to Mary Breeding. To them were born 5 children, 3 of whom are living. The wife died Dec. 19, 1861. On June 25, 1863 he married Ruth Boulware. She died on July 1, 1869, leaving two children, still living.

February 18, 1871 he was married to Mary Jane Morehead and to them were born 3 children, all living. In the home remains the aged wife and faithful son, Thomas, who has cared for the falling body of father. The task is done but God gives the crown to those who follow his mandate, "Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother."

On the roster of Ohio's brave sons we find the name of James B. Irwin, enlisted May, 1874 in 160th O. V. I. and mustered out at Zanesville, Ohio, Sept. 8, 1865.

Life's work is done.

Life's race is won.

The soldier sleeps on earth camping ground awaiting the trumpet call of the Great Captain who shall call all them that sleep to joy, peace and life unending.

Another soldier of the cross
Has laid his armor down,
He nobly fought the fight of faith
And now he wears a crown.
We miss our father in our home
His voice we'll hear no more
Until we reach our Father's home
Upon the golden shore.

A home now mourns the loss of one
Whose place can ne'er be filled
Look up, oh sorrowing ones to him
Who loves and pities still.
Your loved one there for you doth wait
His sorrows are all past
Within the paradise of God
Be's safe at home at last.

Be comforted, oh sorrowing hearts
He's only gone before
Tis but a step from earth to heaven
And Jesus is the door.
The pearly gates were opened
A gentle voice said, come
And with loving words unspoken
Father safely anchored home.

Obituary.

Charles Albin Cummings, son of John and Sarah Cummings, was born near Buchanan, Pike county, Ohio, June 26, 1865, and departed this life at his late home in Kissimmee, Fla., March 12, 1910, aged 44 years 8 months and 19 days.

His father having died when he was but 8 years of age, he made his home with his uncle, Thomas Cummings, until he was able to make his own way through life.

He united with the Pisgah M. E. Church in 1884 under the pastorate of D. D. McColm and retained his membership with this church until the first of the present year, when he asked for his Church letter that he might place his membership in the church of his choice in his home city of Kissimmee, Fla. He always contributed liberally to the support of his church and when he was within reach he was faithful in attendance and was an earnest and zealous worker in the Master's cause.

In 1892 he went to Cranbury, N. J., hoping that a change of climate would be a benefit to his health. Finding that the place aided his broken health he remained there about 7 years. While there, where no near friends or acquaintances could assist him, he saw how a fraternal organization might materially assist him and he affiliated himself with Apollo Lodge F. & A. M. No. 156 of Cranbury N. J., and remained a member of said Lodge until his death.

In 1889 when on a visit to Ocean Grove, N. J., he met the proprietor of a curio store, who was wanting a manager for his store and believing Charles to be just the man he needed, he at once employed him. When the summer season closed at Ocean Grove he moved his store to Tampa, Fla., as was his custom and sent Charles there to take charge, then to return to Ocean Grove for the summer season. He thus spent his summers on the sea shore and the winters on the gulf coast for about four years until the business changed hands.

He then concluded to settle in Tampa and remained a resident of that place until the latter part of 1909, when he secured property in Kissimmee, Fla., and removed there. Writing to his friends concerning his new location and how well he liked it there, he told them he intended to remain there the remainder of his life, perhaps little thinking his life's labors so nearly ended.

About Feb. 20 he wrote his friends that he was suffering from an attack of the grippe and on the 24th of the same month he was able to dictate to his nurse his last message to his dear mother. A few days later she received the sad news "Your son is dangerously ill. Come or advise." This was followed a few days later by a message stating "Your son is dead." The attending physician states that death was caused by a cerebral abscess.

He leaves a mother, two brothers and two sisters to mourn the loss of one very near and dear unto them and who will be sadly missed.

A trolley company in Indiana, running between a number of towns, has for some time been noticing that there was a considerable escape of electricity from its wires, but did not know just where it was going. At last it has found out the trouble and has put a stop to it. It seems that some fishermen, wearying of the old way of getting fish into their baskets, ran a tap wire from the trolley wire to the river nearby. As soon as the current entered the water it stunned every fish in the vicinity, and the enterprising fishermen scooped them up in their nets.

"That party who just called was the most remarkable man I have ever met," said the city editor to his assistant.

"In what way?"
"He did not tell me how to run the paper."—Life.

Best Heavy Fence for the Least Money

YOU who want heavy fence, here is good news.

The Mason Fence Company right here at home in Leesburg is making a fence of No. 9 wire throughout. This means that you can now secure a heavy, strong, durable fence at practically the price you would have to pay elsewhere for a medium fence of half the weight. Why?

Because buying direct from a home factory saves you all the freight charges of sending the fence along the line from the manufacturer, to the wholesaler, to the jobber, to the dealer, to you.

MASON'S All Nine Fence

gives you at least 25% better value for your money than any medium weight fence. It is made of No. 9 steel wire throughout, including the stay wires. Weighs 15 pounds to the rod instead of the medium fence's 7. All wire is thoroughly galvanized and then put through a chemical test. Any section with defective galvanizing is immediately detected. Only that which is galvanized perfectly is used.

The result of the extra weight is remarkable strength. You can depend on Mason's All Nine Fence standing any kind of a shock. The result of the superior galvanizing is remarkable durability. No matter what the weather you can expect years of service from Mason's All Nine Fence.

But you need not keep the fence if you are dissatisfied at any time during the first 30 days. We'll refund your money if you want it. But you won't. You'll surely think Mason's All Nine Fence the best bargain you ever struck. And remember, if anything goes wrong we are here to make it right.

Let us send our descriptive matter. We'll also quote you a special price on the fence erected complete if you'll tell us how much you need. Get this information before you buy a fence. Write today to

The Mason Fence Co., Leesburg, O.
